Details:

Love yarn and crafty organization? This volunteer role is a great way to support a CR-based social service agency while working hands-on with beautiful materials. Volunteers help sort donated yarn by quality and color and then bag and price items as directed. There's a large backlog to work through, so this role is perfect for someone who enjoys methodical, satisfying tasks. Once things are caught up, a regular weekly shift will help keep everything running smoothly. This is a flexible, behind-the-scenes role with a real local impact—and room to expand into other craft areas if you'd like. Location: Salvation Army Thrift Shop, Homewood Rd.

Qualifications & Experience:

Knowledge of yarns is a plus, but not required. Depending on interest, volunteers may also help pair and price knitting and craft needles, and possibly assist with sewing notions
