About the Tula Foundation: The Tula Foundation is an independent charitable foundation based in British Columbia with global interests and outreach. We use our facilities and resources to create a network of collaborators from academia, government agencies, and First Nations. Our collective efforts have catalyzed an enormous quantity of science, education, and stewardship. Our divisions include: The Hakai Institute is an active, engaged BC-based science organization, best known for its Coastal Observatories on Calvert Island and Quadra Island. We are celebrated for our long-term multidisciplinary research, our scientific publications, our compelling media, and our contribution to programs ranging from resource management to natural hazards. Tula supports its sister organization, TulaSalud, which delivers public health programs in Guatemala, with a particular focus on rural, remote, Indigenous communities. At Tula, everyone is part of a team that supports meaningful work and impactful partnerships. Who We're Looking For: We seek dedicated individuals who embrace our scientific and service mission, enjoy teamwork, and are eager to learn. You are flexible, ready to take on new challenges, and willing to pitch in wherever needed. As a Hospitality Support team member, you will assist our chefs, housekeepers, and gardeners at the Calvert Island field station. This can include helping with accommodation, food services, gardening, meeting support, and guest services. We provide company-paid flights to and from Campbell River, along with food, accommodations, and Wi-Fi. Benefits: - Hands-on experience in a dynamic hospitality environment - Mentorship and training from experienced hospitality professionals - Networking opportunities within the hospitality sector - Potential for future employment - Work in a beautiful, remote area on the central coast of BC Why Work at Tula: - Join an engaged, energetic, creative, and collaborative team - Work in a dynamic environment with new challenges regularly - Competitive wages - Commitment to excellence and personal growth Learn more at www.tula.org and www.hakai.org Location and Schedule: - Position based on Calvert Island, BC - Remote camp role with a 15 days on / 6 days off shift rotation - Fly-in/fly-out from Campbell River - May through August Join our team and gain valuable experience supporting hospitality at a unique research lodge!
