We're bringing employers, industry, training opportunities and people that are doing some in-demand jobs across our region together in one place for you to meet. Expect the unexpected. This isn't just a walk-around-and-pick-up-a-brochure kind of career expo. You'll be able to try things out. Hands-on. You'll meet people doing some pretty interesting, local work. You can ask questions you actually want to get answered. And maybe, just maybe, you'll discover a career you never considered before. Whether you're looking for work, thinking about your next move, exploring training, helping a young person figure out what comes next, or just curious about the opportunities right here on the North Island, come and check it out. Come curious. You might leave with a whole new direction.
