Details:

We are looking for a Tax & Audit Specialist to support tax planning, tax accounting, tax reporting, audit activities, and other related financial functions across a large group of companies. In this role, you will research and interpret Canadian tax legislation, support internal and external audits, and help identify ways to improve tax processes, controls, and overall efficiency. You will work closely with different teams and stakeholders, providing practical support on a variety of tax and accounting matters. This is a great opportunity for someone looking to move from public practice into a corporate environment, or for an experienced corporate tax professional who is ready for a new challenge. The ideal candidate is analytical, detail-oriented, and comfortable working independently while managing multiple priorities and deadlines. Strong communication skills, sound knowledge of Canadian taxation and accounting, and the ability to work effectively across a busy group of companies are important for success in this position. Your contributions to the team:

- Prepare tax returns, including personal (T1), corporate (T2), and trust (T3) returns.
- Prepare information returns, including partnership (T5013), statements of investment income (T5), and statements of contract payments (T5018).
- Prepare indirect tax returns, including GST/HST and PST, as well as new housing rebates and self-assessments.
- Coordinate with the group's various business units to obtain the information required for tax reporting and compliance.
- Conduct tax research and analysis and provide recommendations on tax-related matters.
- Prepare and maintain working papers, reconciliations, and supporting documentation for external audits.
- Liaise with the CRA on a variety of tax-related matters on behalf of the corporate group.
- Liaise with external tax advisors and auditors and coordinate requests for information and documentation. • Assist with corporate reorganizations and other tax planning initiatives. • Monitor tax filing deadlines, assessments, notices, and outstanding tax matters across the group. • Review tax assessments and CRA correspondence and follow up on discrepancies or issues as required. • Assist with the preparation and review of tax provisions and tax-related financial reporting. • Identify opportunities to improve tax processes, controls, and reporting across the group. • Assist with ad hoc tax, accounting, and financial reporting matters as they arise.

What we offer:

Employees enjoy a wide range of benefits and competitive reward. You will be eligible to receive salary range of $77,068.00 to $96,335.00 per annum, this will be determined by your skill set, education and experience. You will also be eligible to participate in the Company's benefits program covering:

- Employer paid extended health, vision, and dental coverage (including family)
- Employee and Family Assistance Program
- Employee Referral Program
- Yearly health and wellness benefit
- RPP eligibility after 1 year
- Employee recognition program
- In-house professional development opportunities
